PROEMIO "GRAND RESERVE"

More than we expected.

A superb blend of complex wines, elaborated upon grapes of old vines with low yields at the foothills of the Andes Mountains. It outstands for its structure, concentration and intensity, enhanced by its more than 18 months in 1st use French Oak Barrels.

PROEMIO RESERVA

The reserve wines of Proemio are singular because of the great character they possess, due to outstanding grapes used for its level coming from old vines; 100 year old vines gave birth to the awards winning Reserve Malbec 2003. Also the French oak aging for 12 months and 12 months in bottle before releasing it to the market provides a harmoniously structured, full bodied and long lasting finish wine.

PROEMIO VARIETALES

The wines are created starting with fine and selected grapes from Luján de Cuyo, Tupungato and Tunuyán valleys; ideal places for their growing due to its favorable climatic conditions and rocky soils. The altitude, the excellent temperature amplitude, and the abundant exposure to the Andes sun, all leaves their notable signature on the grapes.
